

2014 ANNUAL REPORT

Chair's Message

Greetings!
I am excited to report that 2014 proved to be another stellar year for the AALAS Foundation. We made great strides in our mission to bring awareness to the public about the compassionate professionals working in the field of laboratory animal science and the important role of animals in biomedical research.

Thanks to the extraordinary commitment of contributors and volunteers, the AALAS Foundation was able to develop new and creative ways to connect with the public and laboratory animal professionals. We took our AALAS-supported public awareness campaign to the next level by advertising in USA Today print publications and developing a social media campaign, in concert with the print ads, which helped broaden our advertising reach. We rolled out a "Celebrate the Mouse!" awareness program to offer laboratory animal professionals a unique tool to assist them in speaking to the public about the wonderful work they do to benefit medical science.

We also launched a new www.Kids4Research.org which allows us to better connect and educate young people about the importance of quality animal care and use in research. Many exciting projects are in the works—including an educational mobile game application for young students. On behalf of the AALAS Foundation Board of Directors, thank you for your past and future support.

Chandra Williams, DVM
2014 Chair, AALAS Foundation Board of Directors

Executive Director's & Administrator's Message

We are happy to report that 2014 was a very exciting and successful year for the AALAS Foundation. We continued to take our public outreach efforts into new territory. Advertisements placed in USA Today allowed us to leverage print, digital and social media to support our bold public awareness efforts. Thanks to the participation of AALAS members in our "Share That You Care" social media campaign, we were able to make great strides in expanding the reach of the USA Today print ads. This support helped communicate our messaging about the compassionate and caring professionals working in the field of laboratory animal science to an estimated 500,000 people.

Our public awareness efforts in 2014 increased visits to our new www.care.aalas.org website by 154%. This website hosts a growing collection of video interviews of laboratory animal science professionals and allows us the ability to showcase all those who work hard to ensure animals working in research receive the care, respect, and honor, they deserve.

We also completed and launched our newly designed www.Kids4Research.org website which will help strengthen our ability to engage with young students and educate them about the importance of biomedical research.

Additionally, we introduced our latest public awareness initiative, "Celebrate the Mouse!" at the 2014 National Meeting. We believe this program, and its logo of a mouse with its tail curled into the shape of a disease awareness ribbon, will serve as a tool to help us engage with the public and provide an opportunity to speak about the important role animals play in the discovery of medical advances.

We, once again, obtained successful fundraising results at the 2014 National Meeting, thanks, in large part, to everyone who participated in the 2014 National Meeting "Cattle Drive" sponsored by the San Antonio Local Arrangements Committee to benefit the AALAS Foundation.

The AALAS Foundation's success in 2014 is because of the generosity of the many individuals, branches and companies who help support our mission of educating the public about the importance of quality animal care and use. Your time, talents, creativity, and financial support are greatly appreciated.

Thanks goes to the AALAS Board of Trustees for their generous support both in spirit and through financial contributions to the AALAS Foundation. And, of course, a huge thank you goes out to the incredibly dedicated AALAS Foundation Board of Directors for their guidance on policy and direction and "hands on" help at AALAS Foundation events at AALAS National Meetings.

We have many exciting plans for the future, some of which include increasing our advertising messaging in publications that reach the general public, developing public relations campaigns that persuade survivors and others who have benefited from biomedical research, to embrace and become advocates of our mission, and the development of a mobile gaming app for young students. With your support, we can continue our efforts to educate the general public and next generation of leaders about the caring professionals in our industry and the important roles of animals in research.

2014 PROJECTS AND PROGRAMS

The AALAS Foundation, a 501 (c) (3) nonprofit organization is dedicated to educational outreach on the essential role of responsible laboratory animal care and use in science to advance human and animal health. The AALAS Foundation develops educational materials, web-based public information resources and public awareness campaigns to inform the public about the compassionate professionals working in laboratory animal science and the importance of quality laboratory animal care to benefit medical progress.

PUBLIC RELATIONS/AWARENESS ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN

The AALAS Foundation continued its bold public awareness efforts in 2014 by placing advertisements in five major regional USA Today print publications – New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, San Francisco, and Houston.

Advertisements were placed in each of these publications during June, August and November, 2014. The ads invited readers to visit the AALAS Foundation's public awareness website – www.care.aalass.org – for more information.

The ads reached 338,989 USA Today subscribers and increased visits to the www.care.aalass.org website by 154%

“SHARE THAT YOU CARE”

The AALAS Foundation launched its “Share That You Care” social media campaign in June, 2014, to coincide with the publication of the USA Today ads.

The “Share That You Care” campaign invited AALAS members to help expand our advertising reach, over a six month period, by sharing the USA Today ads with their family and friends. AALAS members were encouraged to take photos and/or videos sharing the ads and/or stating why caring for animals is not just their job, but, their passion. All photos were placed in a special “We Care” photo gallery on the AALAS Foundation's Facebook page.

The AALAS Foundation received over 135 photo/video “Share That You Care” submissions before the campaign ended in November, 2014. The video “Share” submission provided us an opportunity to include YouTube as part of our social media mix and it received over 700 views.

The photos were “shared” on Facebook over 300 times and received over 1,000 “likes” which helped extend our awareness campaign to an estimated 100,000 Facebook views.

“Celebrate the Mouse!”

This “Celebrate the Mouse” pin—with its tail curled into a pink ribbon—was designed by the AALAS Foundation to celebrate the research mouse and the important role it has played, and continues to play, in the advancement of breast cancer research.

We hope you will wear this pin proudly and help us “Celebrate the Mouse” and all those who courageously work in biomedical research to help find treatment options and cures to benefit people and animals.

“CELEBRATE THE MOUSE” PUBLIC AWARENESS CAMPAIGN

The AALAS Foundation rolled out its “Celebrate the Mouse!” public awareness campaign at the 2014 National Meeting in honor of Breast Cancer Awareness month. National Meeting attendees making a $5.00 contribution at the Foundation booth received a “Celebrate the Mouse” lapel pin (a mouse with its tail curled into a pink breast cancer awareness ribbon). They were also offered an opportunity to have their picture taken and receive a “Celebrate the Mouse” San Antonio souvenir photo.

The goal of the “Celebrate the Mouse” campaign is to convey the message that animals play an important role in the advancement of medical discoveries to help find cures and treatment options for catastrophic diseases. The “Celebrate the Mouse” lapel pin was developed as a visual image for that message. It also serves as a “conversation starter” – allowing professionals working in laboratory animal science an opportunity to talk to the public about their passion for their job and the important work they do.

“Celebrate the Mouse” flyers were developed to include “talking points” describing several ways mice and rodents have helped advance breast cancer research. These flyers accompanied the “Celebrate the Mouse!” pins at the 2014 National Meeting.

“Celebrate the Mouse” pins and flyers were also introduced and distributed to educators attending the 2014 National Science Teachers Association conference, where they were extremely well received.

OUTREACH AT EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCES

AALAS staff and volunteers exhibited at the annual meetings of:

- National Science Teachers Association
- Future Farmers of America
- National Catholic Educators Association

Teachers and students were provided with materials to inform and promote the importance of quality laboratory animal care and research to benefit both human and animal health. They were also provided materials to show the vast array of career opportunities in the field of laboratory animal science.

A combined total of over 81,000 teachers and students attended these national annual conferences.

WHYVILLE – OVER 2 MILLION GAME PLAYS

The AALAS Foundation’s Community Animal Research Environment (CARE) in the virtual community of Whyville has generated over 2 million game plays since its debut in late 2009, including 61,063 in 2014.

KIDS 4 RESEARCH WEBSITE

Funded by Charles River Laboratories, the www.kids4research.org site was developed to provide age-appropriate material to stimulate interest and understanding about our field. In 2014, the AALAS Foundation completed its redesigning of this website. The new www.kids4research.org website was launched at the 2014 AALAS National Meeting. It offers a modern “look and feel” and includes a more interactive and engaging experience for students visiting the site.

FREE OUTREACH RESOURCES

With the generous support of our donors, the AALAS Foundation continues to offer complimentary shipping on AALAS Bookstore (aalas.org/bookstore) orders comprised exclusively of AALAS Foundation public outreach materials.

PFIZER BRANCH AREA PROGRAM FUNDING

AALAS and the AALAS Foundation, with the help of Pfizer, offers complimentary Animal Research Education and Awareness (AREA) Program resources to branches and districts interested in conducting the program in their communities during their meetings.

AREA Program resources include a step-by-step event guide, logoed backpacks, student notebooks and pens, and Foundation outreach materials.

Additionally, thanks to the support of Pfizer, the AALAS Foundation is now able to offer a limited number of grants to AALAS Branches to help branches conduct this important program in their communities. In 2014 the AALAS Foundation received and awarded two Pfizer Branch AREA Program requests in the amount of $500.00 each.

FIRST TIME PLATINUM LEVEL CORPORATE DONORS AWARDED PLAQUE

American College of Laboratory Medicine, Instech Laboratories, Inc., Office Depot (on behalf of Charles River), Sanitation Strategies, and Transnetyx, Inc., joined an elite list of AALAS Foundation supporters by receiving a first time Platinum+ level donor recognition plaque at the 65th AALAS National Meeting in San Antonio.

Companies, institutions, and branches that support the AALAS Foundation, at the Platinum level or higher ($500+ annual contribution) for the first time, receive a plaque to recognize their contributions to the Foundation.

Plaque recipients receive a plaque tab in each subsequent year they support the AALAS Foundation at the Platinum level or higher.

2014 NATIONAL MEETING – ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL YEAR FOR AALAS FOUNDATION

The silent and live auction fundraising efforts at the 65th AALAS National Meeting in Phoenix generated over $22,000 to support the AALAS Foundation's public outreach efforts.

The San Antonio National Meeting Local Arrangements Committee sponsored a highly successful "Cattle Drive" fundraising event to benefit the AALAS Foundation in 2014. A total of ninety-three individuals, companies, institutions and branches registered to compete in the "Cattle Drive."

Each contestant received an 8" resin cow and was challenged to decorate their cow. The cows were displayed at the National Meeting and received "points" to determine the best decorated cow. "Points" were donations made to the AALAS Foundation on behalf of a cow.

The first place winner of the "Cattle Drive" was Charles River Laboratories' cow, "TaCow", decorated by Charles River Laboratories' staff. Their cow raised a total of $1,015 in donations to benefit the AALAS Foundation.

We thank all those who made a contribution to the AALAS Foundation, attended the Appreciation Reception, sponsored by Charles River, and participated in the Silent and Live auctions.

Special thanks to the National Meeting committee members, AALAS Foundation booth volunteers, and Appreciation Reception volunteers for their outstanding support of the AALAS Foundation.

2014 NATIONAL MEETING AREA PROGRAM

The Animal Research Education and Awareness (AREA) Program was a huge success at the 2014 National Meeting in San Antonio. Thanks to the generous support of Pfizer, the AALAS Foundation was able to host over 95 students and educators from San Antonio-area high schools at this event. Students and teachers had a unique opportunity interact with professionals working in the field of laboratory animal science and learn about the importance of quality animal care and use to advance medical discovery.

Twenty National Meeting exhibitors volunteered to participate in the "Exhibit Hall Scavenger Hunt" portion of the program. Over forty industry professionals volunteered to serve as tour guides to accompany students during the full day of educational activities.

COMING SOON!

AALAS Foundation Board members, volunteers and staff are working to implement the following projects in 2015:

DEVELOPMENT OF MOBILE DEVICE GAME APP

The AALAS Foundation is working to develop an educational mobile device game application for middle school age students. The goal of this mobile game app is to offer an exciting and challenging game that will educate students about the importance of quality animal care in biomedical research and the professionals who care for the animals.

PUBLIC OUTREACH CAMPAIGNS

The AALAS Foundation is continuing to make use of print, digital and social media platforms in order to broaden its ability to educate the public about the compassionate professionals working in the field of laboratory animal science and the importance of quality laboratory animal. Look for the AALAS Foundation to increase its advertising in national news publications and to utilize social media, such as Facebook, Twitter and YouTube, to expand its public outreach efforts.

REDESIGNED WEBSITE

The AALAS Foundation plans to redesign its website in 2015. The new design should make it easier for visitors to navigate and find information and materials more efficiently.
